A Presentation for Parents and Leaders

“To Serve God”

- All Girl Scouts promise “to serve God.”
- Girl Scouting encourages girls to grow in their faith.
- Faith-based awards include:
 - My Promise, My Faith Pin
 - Individual Religious Recognitions

My Promise, My Faith (MPMF) Pin

- The MPMF Pin:
 - Was created by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.
 - Helps girls connect Girl Scouting with their faith.
 - Girls will examine a line of the Girl Scout Law and consider how it ties to their faith.
 - The MPMF requirements are found in each level of the Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting.

My Promise, My Faith (MPMF) Pin

- The MPMF pin complements the Religious Recognitions.
 - Requirement #5 is “Keep the Connection Strong.”
 - Girls are instructed to “Find out if your faith community offers a recognition program for Girl Scouts.”

My Promise, My Faith (MPMF) Pin

- The MPMF pin helps girls make the connection between their faith and the Girl Scout Law and then points them to the Religious Recognition of their own faith.
- The Religious Recognitions will then help girls to grow in their specific faith.

Religious Recognitions

- The Religious Recognitions are pictured on the “To Serve God Brochure” which also provides the contact information for each program.
- The brochure is available on the P.R.A.Y. website www.praypub.org/gsusa

How to Get Started on Religious Recognitions

Presenting Religious Recognitions

- Religious Recognitions may be presented to the girls by clergy in a worship service in the recipient's congregation.
- Recipients should also be recognized in a Girl Scout setting, such as an awards ceremony.
- Religious Recognitions may be worn on the front of the uniform.

Troop Leaders

- Leaders should encourage girls to fulfill their promise "to serve God" by promoting faith-based programs.
- As part of the MPMF requirements, leaders should help girls find out if their faith community offers a Religious Recognition.
- Resources to make presentations on Religious Recognitions can be found at www.praypub.org/gsusa
